WELCOME

FROM THE HEADTEACHER

Thank you for taking the time to consider applying for the post of Teacher of Science.

At St Patrick's, it is our mission to ensure that children experience a truly great Catholic education that enables them to flourish academically and shine personally, preparing them for a happy and successful adult life. We are committed to helping every child become the very best version of themselves.

Our school motto is, 'amazing things happen here' and you only have to spend five minutes in our school to realise that this is absolutely true. We have a strong and dedicated team of professionals who challenge and support students to achieve amazing things and they work hard to create an environment, built on mutual respect, whereby students rise to the challenges set for them. Our strength comes from our drive for excellence in all that we do and our consistent and persistent approach.

We are committed to providing an inclusive workplace where staff feel valued and trusted and where collaborative working is at the heart of everything we do. We also recognise the importance of supporting our staff to continuously develop in order for them to achieve their own professional career goals.

If you meet the role criteria and are an excellent practitioner and believe that a great education can transform a child's life and future, we would love to hear from you!

Mrs Alison Byrne

Why St Patrick's?

St Patrick's has a consistently strong record for academic achievement, resulting in above average pupil attainment and progress compared to LA, Regional and National benchmarks.

In November of 2025, we were visited by OFSTED and gained a well-deserved, Strong Standard in all areas.

Inspection report: 25 November 2025

Below are two small extracts from our recent OFSTED report that touches upon what it is like to be a pupil at St Patricks and also the teaching and learning experience.

“Pupils belong to a calm, ambitious community where they are treated with dignity and respect. They greet adults warmly, hold doors open for visitors and their peers and talk about being 'proud to come here'. Older pupils see it as their responsibility to look after younger ones and to 'be a positive example'. Around the site, including in less-supervised areas, behaviour is settled and self-managed. Pupils say they feel safe in school, know exactly who they would talk to if they were worried and are clear about how staff deal with any unkindness or bullying.”

“Teaching is typically highly effective. Teachers use secure subject knowledge, explicit vocabulary teaching and well-chosen examples to help pupils to connect ideas and deepen their understanding. In English, pupils explore universal themes such as jealousy, ambition and pride through the study of Shakespeare and relate these themes to contemporary issues. In mathematics and science, teachers use skilful questioning and regular checks on learning to secure pupils' accuracy and to address misconceptions quickly.”

St Patrick's is a forward thinking school and have been chosen to be at the forefront of a number of DFE improvement programmes, with the purpose of improving the life chances of young people by ensuring they benefit from a high quality education. This work has involved St Patrick's supporting other schools with their processes, curriculum, teaching and learning. An example of such work is when St Patrick's was chosen as a Lead School for the Behaviour Hubs Programme. This involved supporting and mentoring twelve Secondary schools over a two year period to review and develop their behaviour processes resulting in improving the culture and climate within those schools. Therefore, benefitting the thousands of children who currently attend and who will attend these schools in the future.

Overall, we believe St Patrick's is an excellent choice for parents and carers to send their children for a high quality Catholic education and also for the staff who work here. Our staff retention is excellent and there is good reason why a significant proportion of our staff have worked here for over 10 years.

Our People Values

Our core people values are at the heart of every decision that we make as an employer. Our aims are:

- To fulfil our Catholic mission, to ensure our children and staff live life to the full
- To attract, recruit, develop and retain high performing staff, to ensure that we allow pupils to become the best version of themselves.
- To provide a workplace where staff feel valued and trusted.
